

Chartered accountant John Smith and his daughter Jacqueline had been drinking before they flew a plane that crashed on its way back from a family holiday, also killing the pair and his wife Angela, an inquest was told.

read more