

Keeping more than 15,000 dialysis centres updated is a huge task! We now give dialysis centres the opportunity to both own and manage your own information. This page will tell you how to do that.

To maintain the quality of our information we now verify each new update or listing made. Updates can only be made by logged in users and site administrators.

Step one: registering and logging in

To set up and maintain dialysis centre data you must first be registered and logged in:

- register here.
- await activation email, click the link in this, and
- return to www.globaldialysis.com and log in.

Step two: visit your user menu

Next go to your user menu (always found at the bottom of the right hand column) - here you will find routes to manage your own details, add new centres and update the details of the centres you manage.

If your centre is listed but not in your user centre:

It is easy to give you "ownership" over your centre - but we need to verify who you are first. Please register and log in. Then email contact@globaldialysis.com , explaining which centres need to come under your ownership. We will move the centre to you quickly.
